

COMMERCIAL BANKING

COUNTRIES THAT REQUIRE BIC AND IBAN

Payments to some countries have a mandatory requirement for a BIC and/or IBAN. A BIC (Bank Identifier Code) is an international standard for identifying the beneficiary's bank quickly and easily. An IBAN (International Bank Account Number) is an international standard for identifying a customer's account number anywhere in the world. Any payment transaction made to the countries listed below should contain the applicable BIC and/or IBAN as payment instructions without it may be returned by the receiving bank and/or incur an additional fee.

Please note that payments made or received in Euros need a BIC and IBAN. Failure to adhere may result in the payment being rejected and/or incur additional fees.
